

Violence in Varieties of Gender Regimes

Master Class by Prof. Sylvia Walby

Anneliese Maier Research Awardee
Royal Holloway, University of London

16.04.2024, 12:30–16:30 Uhr

Campus Essen

not open to the general public

Centering around theoretical debates on the role of violence in varieties of gender regimes, the Master Class will explore Walby's theorising on violence in varieties of gender regimes and discuss how her conceptualizations can be used as methodological tools in empirical research projects. The Class aims to advance theoretical foundations of research on society, change, gender, and violence and intends to bring together early career researchers (post-docs and doctoral candidates) from different disciplinary backgrounds with an established scholar in order to foster an interdisciplinary exchange on contemporary strands of social and feminist theory.

Sylvia Walby

Anneliese Maier Research Awardee
Royal Holloway, University of London

© Prof. Sylvia Walby

Professor Sylvia Walby OBE FBA FAcSS holds the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation Anneliese Maier Research Award with the Essen College of Gender Research and the Institute of Sociology of the University of Duisburg–Essen as host institutions. She holds a Professorship at the School of Law and Social Sciences in Royal Holloway, University of London. The renowned scientist is a Fellow of the British Academy and Fellow of the UK Academy of Social Sciences and served as the Chair of the UK Research Excellence Framework REF2021 Sub-Panel for Sociology. She is Founding Co-President of the International Sociological Association's Thematic Group 11 on Violence and Society. Walby was awarded an OBE for services to equal opportunities and diversity in 2008.

Further information:

<https://www.netzwerk-fgf.nrw.de/veranstaltungen>

<https://www.uni-due.de/ekfg/>